

DAILY DEMOCRAT.

MONDAY, - OCTOBER 18, 1855.

Dealers in Medicine.

Harley's Saraparilla commands the largest sale, and is the best preparation before the public. When purchasing stock be sure and take no other, send down.

The Democrat costs ten cents per week, payable to the carriers; and it is served gratis in all parts of the city, Portland, Shippingport, Jeffersonville, and New Albany, promptly, by faithful carriers. Every Democrat should subscribe. Who will go without the news, when it can be served them, at their doors, bright and early in the morning, at a cheap rate? Orders left at the office, or with the carriers, will receive prompt attention.

Headquarters this Evening!

A full attendance of the Young Men's Democratic Club is desired this evening.

THEATRE.—Mr. Conway had a most excellent house at his benefit on Saturday night, and we were glad of it. Rob Roy was never better put on the stage. As Rob, Mr. Conway only added to his reputation before the people—were expected him to be the Highland Chieftain, and were not disappointed. After the curtain fell at the close of the first piece, Mr. and Mrs. Conway were called to the front, and vociferously cheered. Mr. C., after an appeal to the audience, gave expression to his gratification in a few plain, well-expressed and evidently heartfelt sentences that we may almost say, endeared him personally to the people. There was no false flattery—no high-flown expression of happiness—nothing but plain, natural, common sense thoughts, eloquent with feeling. Mr. Conway's Helen MacGregor was an admirable performance—so was her Esmeralda, in the afterpiece. When we met with two such artistes, we could wish them to stay longer. They play to-night in Cincinnati, and we have no doubt will prove great favorites there. Mr. Bradbury's Nicie Jarvis was excellently done—so was Hall's Dougla, Hamilton's Francis, and especially Benson's Major Goldsmith. The singing both solo and chorus, was very respectable.

To-night Mrs. Farren will make her first appearance for some five years or more, in the arduous character of Lucretia Borgia, with Mr. Bradley as Genaro. The play is one we do not much admire—we don't think it calculated to do any good. Mrs. Farren has been playing two weeks to fashionable houses at Ben DeBar's Theater, St. Louis, and we doubt not will draw well here. The afterpiece is a new one. The Anonymous Correspondent.

DEPARTMENT.—Messrs. Keen, Stedman & Co., the proprietors of the new Louisville Hotel, had anticipated the pleasure of entertaining their friends to-day, but as the opening occasion has been somewhat delayed, and their organization is not so complete as they could wish, they will be compelled to forgo that pleasure for a few days. After the immense throng in attendance upon the fair has abated to some extent, they will avail themselves of the first opportunity to give an entertainment to which they had looked forward with much interest and delight.

THE BUNYAN TABLEAUX.—We understand that the strong bestowal upon this celebrated work of art has been such as to induce the proprietor to remain another week. This is good evidence that our citizens are ever ready to encourage whatever is meritorious in its character, and such the Buna Tableaux, now on exhibition at Mozart Hall, undoubtedly are. The landscapes, figures, and groupings of these scenes, are so life-like and brilliant, and stand out in such bold relief, as to please persons of the most critical taste. Go and see this painted poem.

NEWS FROM KANSAS.—We have news from Kansas, has reached this city by telegraph since our last issue. These advises represent that the election passed off quietly on Monday last.—Hon. J. W. Whipple, the Democratic candidate for delegate to Congress, having been elected with an overwhelming opposition. The Democrats have also returned a majority of representatives to the Territorial Legislature. Some accounts represent that the free State men did not participate in the election. We wait anxiously the details.

CHANGE OF HOME-STEALING.—James F. Harding, charged with stealing a horse, the property of a German of this city, whose case had been continued to Saturday, in the Police Court, was further examined and committed in default of $600 to answer to the charge in the Criminal Court. Harding is from Indiana, where he had formerly been a school teacher and horse trader. He has been severely afflicted with rheumatism as to require the use of two crutches.

COMMITTED FOR PASSING COUNTERFEIT MONEY.—A. B. Stephens, who had been previously partially examined on a charge of passing a counterfeit $10 note on the Farmers' Bank of Kentucky, had a full examination before the Police Court Saturday, and was committed, in default of $600 bail, to answer an indictment in the Criminal Court, which meets this morning.

ROBERT.—The hardware store of Messrs. Clark & White, on Main street, between Sixth and Seventh, was entered by burglars, at a late hour on Friday night, and robbed of about $2,500 worth of cutlery, principally knives. An entrance was effected by the use of a burglarious instrument called a "jimmy," with which the door was bolted from the hinges.

SECESSION.—We learn from the Evening Bulletin of Saturday, that the congregation which worships in Schon's Chapel, at a meeting on Friday evening, resolved to withdraw from the M. E. Church, South, on account of that of that pastor, who failed to supply the congregation with a pastor. We do not learn the cause of the neglect.

A gentleman called at our office yesterday, and left a small leather covered memorandum book, with red tape string fastening. It contains a good many memoranda of recent, &c., and some counterfeiting money. The owner can have it upon paying expenses of this notice. Callister's desk.

THE SOUTHWESTERN FAIR.—The fair of the Southwest Agricultural and Mechanical Association con vented to-morrow, the 13th inst., at the grounds of the Association—three miles from this city. We are assured that the attendance will be larger than upon any former occasion.

THE MEDICAL PROFESSION are respectfully invited to attend a lecture of Dr. Lewis Bauer, of the Brooklyn Orthop. &c. Institute, at the Medical Department of the Louisville University, on this afternoon (Monday), at 3 P.M. Subject—Hip disease and its consequences.

DRUNKENESS AND NEGLECT.—One Peter Schleuder was before the Police Court on Saturday morning, on the charge of drunkenness and neglecting his family. He was required to go to jail that he would answer his habits in the sum of $100.

ARMED.—A man was arrested in Shepherdsville on Friday, charged with stealing a horse, the property of Mr. Rucker, of this city. A policeman brought him to this city on Saturday evening, and he will be examined this morning.

THE BOYS AT THE FAIR.—The boys of the Institute had considerable time on Saturday night at the expense of an up-country gentleman, who was shown around among the curiosities much to his own gratification.

CONTINUED.—The examination of Thos. Owens for shooting at Thos. Parkhurst with intent to injure him, in the absence of important testimony, was continued, by the City Court on Saturday evening, and will be examined this evening.

DRIVING FOR COAL.—Some boys have lately been rendering good service by driving for some coal, some miles above, bringing it down in skiffs. Several cart loads are daily furnished to the coal dealers here in this way.

The New Louisville Hotel.

This new establishment, which occupies the site of the old Louisville Hotel, on Main street, between Sixth and Seventh, is now completed, and will be thrown open to transient guests and regular boarders to-day. When we remember that the foundations were commenced about seven months ago, we are astonished at the Aladdin-like labor which have attended its construction. Without any reference to the capacity of the structure, we doubt if this new hotel has equal in point of architectural design and finish in the world; it certainly is not excelled in this country. A gentleman who has extended his travels throughout the enlightened world freely expresses his preference for the "Louisville" above any hotel within his knowledge. As a matter of interest to the public we furnish such a description of the building and its outfit as our limits this morning will permit.

The hotel has a front of 224 feet on Main street, and is five stories in height. The front is elaborately enriched with ornamental windows, cornices, balconies, and projections, which, with the magnificent portion, of Indiana marble, thirty feet high, presents an appearance not inferior to the best specimens of street architecture in the United States. Within the portico, and separated from it by a glass arcade, is the vestibule, a spacious reception-room for guests and baggage. Still within, and only separated from the vestibule by some ornamental columns, is the main entrance hall, a spacious and lofty apartment, being at least thirty feet high, gorgeously finished and richly ornamented with a profusion of the most exquisite architectural forms and devices, which, while they captivate the eye, all serve to indicate their positions and objects, and absolutely indispensable in their place. An immense bronze chandelier, of the latest style and in the best taste, is suspended from the ceiling in the centre. To the south and facing the vestibule, within an enclosure of white Italian marble, is the clerk's office, and on either side of the office are the grand stair-cases, ascending both right and left, on the second landing by a gallery over ten feet wide, extending the full length of the north side of the hall. Such spacious and easily ascended stairs are a novelty in themselves, and will be an appreciated feature in the hotel, as also the gallery in the hall, where is found a most pleasant promenade and resting-place, from which all that occurs in the hall can be observed without interruption by arrivals or the business in the hall. Still in connection with the main hall, and connecting by glass doors with the gallery is a splendid unit of gentlemen's parlors, looking out upon Main street, and in immediate connection with the entrance to the hotel. These are really pleasant sitting rooms.

WACHES, JEWELRY, AND SILVERWARE.—The well-known plowers in the manufacture of these articles, these enterprising gentlemen deserve credit for their achievement in their difficult branch of manufacture, but their popularity and standing does not depend upon newspaper mention, their products having established them fairly before the public. No less deserving of mention is the case of

MESSRS. PETERS, CRAIG & CO., the well-known plowers in the manufacture of these articles. These enterprising gentlemen deserve credit for their achievement in their difficult branch of manufacture, but their popularity and standing does not depend upon newspaper mention, their products having established them fairly before the public. No less deserving of mention is the case of recently contributed to the exhibition by Mr. William Kendrick of Third street, between Main and Market. There is no branch of trade which admits of the same amount of unfair dealing as the one in question, and there are but few persons who have not been deceived more than once in the matter of purchasing jewelry. Mr. Kendrick has a reputation for fair-dealing which has inspired the public confidence with the most unqualified confidence, and they purchase articles from him with no misgivings as to their genuineness and purity. This case of goods contains some of the finest specimens in their line, that we have ever seen. Another attractive feature of the fair is the case of

WACHES, JEWELRY, AND SILVERWARE.

MESSRS. HAYES, CRAIG & CO., near the centre of the hall. The specimens of ladies' and children's hats, caps and furs are most charming. In their line of trade these gentlemen have no superiors in the western country; and they furnish everything from a wool hat to the most elaborate set of ladies' furs, either at wholesale or retail. The EXHIBITION THIS WEEK will eclipse the display of any former period. Numerous additions have been made, which will render a visit to the Institute most profitable and agreeable.

Papers friendly to the cause will please copy, and friends circulate notices of the appointments.

W. J. PRESTON BULL, who will preside in the clerk's office.

The architects of the building are Messrs. Rogers, Whitestone & Co., who may justly indulge a pride in the contemplation of the magnificent structure which they are just completing. The brick work was done under the superintendence of Mr. Gibbs; the plastering by Mr. Ashcraft; carpenter's work by Messrs. Tracy, Rudy & Fox; and the painting by Messrs. Briner & Porter. The cabinet work is by Messrs. Dickenson & Snyder, furnished the upholstery; Messrs. Thomas Williams & Co. the gas lighting, steam apparatus, chandeliers, &c., and Messrs. Hite & Smith the carpets, &c. Mr. John Head did the bell-hanging, and Mr. W. F. Wood the paper-hanging. The silver ware, French china, and manufactures, furnishers, and mechanics, all acquitted themselves with personal credit, and with satisfaction to the proprietors.

Again we repeat that the Louisville Hotel is a great achievement, and thousands of citizens, who visit it to-day, upon the opening occasion will regard it with a sentiment and expression of pride and gratification.

Fair of the Mechanic's Institute.

Our reporter, through a misapprehension of his own, had a tendency in his remarks on Saturday, to detract somewhat from the magnificence of the display made by the well-known plowers in the manufacture of these articles. These enterprising gentlemen deserve credit for their achievement in their difficult branch of manufacture, but their popularity and standing does not depend upon newspaper mention, their products having established them fairly before the public. No less deserving of mention is the case of

MESSRS. PETERS, CRAIG & CO.,

WACHES, JEWELRY, AND SILVERWARE.

recently contributed to the exhibition by Mr. William Kendrick of Third street, between Main and Market. There is no branch of trade which admits of the same amount of unfair dealing as the one in question, and there are but few persons who have not been deceived more than once in the matter of purchasing jewelry. Mr. Kendrick has a reputation for fair-dealing which has inspired the public confidence with the most unqualified confidence, and they purchase articles from him with no misgivings as to their genuineness and purity. This case of goods contains some of the finest specimens in their line, that we have ever seen. Another attractive feature of the fair is the case of near the centre of the hall. The specimens of ladies' and children's hats, caps and furs are most charming. In their line of trade these gentlemen have no superiors in the western country; and they furnish everything from a wool hat to the most elaborate set of ladies' furs, either at wholesale or retail. The EXHIBITION THIS WEEK will eclipse the display of any former period. Numerous additions have been made, which will render a visit to the Institute most profitable and agreeable.

MESSRS. HAYES, CRAIG & CO.,

Papers friendly to the cause will please copy, and friends circulate notices of the appointments.

D. W. Kavanaugh

Assistant Democratic elector for the Fifth Congressional District, will address the people at the following time and place:

Clifton, Wednesday, Oct. 13.

Baldwinsville, Wednesday, Oct. 15.

Fridaysburg, Thursday, Oct. 16.

Syracuse, Friday, Oct. 24.

Westport, Saturday, Oct. 25.

Lowell, Saturday, Oct. 25.

Storrs, Friday, Oct. 26.

Lowell, Saturday, Oct. 27.

London, Tuesday, Oct. 28.

Lowell, Wednesday, Oct. 29.

London, Thursday, Oct. 30.

Lowell, Friday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Saturday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Sunday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Monday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Tuesday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Wednesday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Thursday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Friday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Saturday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Sunday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Monday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Tuesday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Wednesday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Thursday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Friday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Saturday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Sunday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Monday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Tuesday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Wednesday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Thursday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Friday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Saturday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Sunday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Monday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Tuesday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Wednesday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Thursday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Friday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Saturday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Sunday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Monday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Tuesday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Wednesday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Thursday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Friday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Saturday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Sunday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Monday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Tuesday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Wednesday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Thursday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Friday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Saturday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Sunday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Monday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Tuesday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Wednesday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Thursday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Friday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Saturday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Sunday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Monday, Oct. 31.

Lowell, Tuesday, Oct. 31.

